

DICE Virtual Innovation Competition 2014

NES in the collaboration with the esteem DICE Foundation, PCST and COMSATS brings DICE Virtual Innovation Competition (DICE VIC) for the students of NED University. This competition is an opportunity aimed to facilitate the implementation process of student ideas and innovation that are successful in proving their worth. A virtual platform of DICE innovation portal website will be used as the basis of innovation submission for DICE VIC.

Fatima Khalid Mir, Fazeela Hayat Ahmed and Syeda Samia Bukhari of Department of Computer Science and Information Technology won first prize worth R. 50,000 at DICE Virtual Innovation Competition 2014 for their idea of "Electricity Monitoring & Optimization System".

